

---

---

September 2016

Departmental Promotion and Tenure Committee

At the April faculty meeting, the members of the departmental P&T committee for the next academic year shall be named. The departmental P&T committee consists of all tenured members of the department not serving as department chair or as a member of a subsequent P & T committee (e.g. college or university level). Before the end of the term, the committee shall meet and elect a chair. The chair is responsible for calling meetings, organizing the committee for the submissions of letters of evaluation, and signing the dossier on behalf of the committee. The name of the chair shall be made available to the entire faculty. If

Scholarship Examples: Department of Chemistry and Biochemistry, College of Engineering & Science

The preponderance of the evidence of scholarship should be peer